of the redeemed who had already gone to heaven. John heard them singing in heaven, "And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for Thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by Thy blood out of every kindred, tongue, and people, and nation; and hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth." Rev. 5:9, 10.

They were not angels who never sinned, but persons who were redeemed by the blood offering of Christ the Saviour, members of a fallen race who had been redeemed by the blood of the Lamb. They were a select company who were with Christ to act a part with Him in His sanctuary work. We believe them to be the first ripe fruit of the great holy harvest of humanity. They were of the sheaf offering presented before the Father when Jesus ascended to heaven after His resurrection from the dead. Enoch, Elijah, and Moses may be in the number. They most likely include in their number those who had a special resurrection when our crucified Saviour arose from the dead.

Matthew said that when Jesus arose many bodies of the saints which slept came out of their graves after His resurrection and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many. Matt. 27:52, 53. These did not arise to die again but to be used by the Messiah in His work. And Paul says when Jesus ascended on high He led captivity captive [or a multitude of captives]. And who were those that He led? Those, of course, who were taken by Him, from the prison house death. These ascended with Him, and the psalmist refers to them in the holy place after the ascension. The reference is to a reign on the earth in agreement with the prophet Daniel where he says, "The kingdom and dominion and greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High." Dan. 7:27.

This reign is not limited to a thousand years. No, the kingdom is an everlasting kingdom. It is not the reign of a thousand years described in Rev. 20:4-6. That is the first millennium to be shared by the saints with Jesus following the second coming of the Redeemer. Those who have a part in this, the great resurrection harvest, ascend with Jesus to heaven. The rest of the dead, the wicked, live not again until the thousand years are finished. During that one thousand years the great host of the redeemed will have some part to act in the judgment which precedes the resurrection and destruction of the ungodly among men and the wicked angels.

I was as brief as the subject would allow, and yet it required more than an hour to cover the ground. The brother who had tried to convince our people that there would be a thousand years of probation in the future listened quietly and at the conclusion said, "I thought you believed as I did in this matter."

As men from men
Do, in the constitution of their souls,
Differ by mysteries not to be explained;
And as we fall by various ways, and sink
One deeper than another, self condemned,
Through manifold degrees of guilt and shame;
So manifold and various are the ways
Of restoration.

Early Observations—No. 12

Our First Sermon

Soon after our first camp meeting, an advocate of future probation thought proper on a Sabbath day to set the reasons of his faith before us. In his effort he read Acts 15:13-17 and claimed from its teaching that there would be an extended period of gospel work after the second coming of Christ. He also read Revelation 5:9,10 trying to show that the redeemed would reign on the earth, and no where else, with Christ as kings and priests, using with it Revelation 20:4-6 to show how long probation would continue on the earth after the return of Christ. He also used other scriptures, but our space will not allow us to mention more.

When he had concluded his speech it was thought best that I, since I had recently discarded these future probation delusions, should respond to what he had said. In the rejoinder it was easy to show that the meeting reported in Acts 15 had been called by the apostles to consider whether or not the Gentiles were eligible to the benefits of Christianity without submitting to the rituals of the Levitical law. As the decision was in favor of admitting them directly into Christian fellowship without conforming to the Levitical rites, it was plain that the subject of a future probation was not considered at all.

The speeches and the decision at the council simply related to the work which had been done among the Gentiles, and to the liberties which God would grant to persons converted among the Gentiles upon the simple belief in Christ.

When it came to his second proposition, the one in which he tried to make out that the redeemed never would be taken to heaven, it was not difficult to see that the scripture which he read told of some

He made no effort to reply. We were sure that the meeting did our people good.

Lodi, Calif.

Mrs. Gardner and I very much appreciate the interesting news, encouraging reports, and admonitions the HERALD brings to us in far away California every week. We hasten to renew our subscription lest we miss a copy.

It is quite a change to pass the winter with only frosts and a few slight freezes, but we would welcome a week's visit in the middle West where there is sleighing and skating. From October to March, inclusive, we have an abundance of rain, then scarcely any clouds the rest of the year. As would be expected, considerable dust forms during the summer season. But for the mountain snow which melts and is carried by a system of irrigation making fruits and flowers abound, as well as grains and meadows, the long dry season would be well nigh intolerable.

An unpleasant feature of the outlook here, and which threatens to seriously menace the peace and prosperity of this country in the near future, is the large, and increasing number of unemployed and homeless men who are flocking here because of the mild climate and fruitful valleys. The Lodi Normal Institute, recently changed to the Lodi Academy, with which Mrs. Gardner and I are connected—she as preceptress and teacher in English, and I as teacher of Bible and history—has an attendance of about 100 in academic and commerial work and 80 or 90 in grades one to eight. Our boys, Floyd and Earl, are in the senior year of their College course, at the Pacific Union College.

May the Lord prosper the work in the Lake Union Conference.

Sabbath and Sunday, February 6, 7, I was privileged to be with the little church at this place.

Storms and deep snow prevented many from attending, but we enjoyed a blessing together. The missionary spirit is burning in the hearts of the brethren here, and they are holding Bible readings with their neighbors with the result that a number are deeply interested in the message. Of course the enemy is not pleased with this and some are stirred up to fight the good work begun. The brethren are hopeful that some will take their stand for truth.

A very commendable spirit is being manifested in giving to missions. For the month of January they were ahead on their apportionment for the month and have plans well laid to keep ahead for the rest of the year. I am sure they can succeed. In addition to giving to missions, they are conducting a church school and are endeavoring to train their children for the Lord.

I am now with the church at Omer. Here too a church school is being conducted and the church is alive to the needs of the hour.

While here I received a letter from Brother W. C. Mathewson at Mio saying that two more, a man and his wife, had already begun to keep the Sabbath. From many places good reports come showing that our people are taking hold of the work in earnest.

Cedar Lake Items

The meetings being held in the academy building continued until Sunday night, February 14. Many hearts were touched by the Spirit of God when "The Home of the Saved" was presented. Four others made a start for the kingdom. One of these was the wife of one of the young men who started three or four weeks ago. Another was the husband of one of the sisters who recently moved here that her children might be in school. Another was an old resident for whom many prayers have been made, and the fourth was a little child who wants to be saved when Jesus comes. This makes a total of seventy who have professed conversion during these meetings. Ten more have expressed a desire to join this church.

If the Lord gives us success in bringing all these people on in His way and they remain faithful to their professed desires to be God's children, this will make an increase in the membership of the Cedar Lake church of over eighty people. Our present membership is one hundred eighteen. When these are added our membership will be about two hundred.

We are of strong courage and believe that the good work thus started will not stop even though the regular nightly services have been discontinued. Several are deeply interested and we are working for them. The series of meetings has been a severe strain upon the writer for he has endeavored to carry on his school work without interruption, but weariness and anxiety are counted as nothing in the face of such blessings as the Lord has been pleased to bestow upon us.

We know the people in the North and West Michigan Conferences who have children here in school will be rejoiced to learn of these great blessings for such meetings always react for good upon the school. So far as we know all of our dormitory students have been reached by these meetings and most of the students who live in the village have professed conversion.

The academy is harvesting a bounteous crop of ice. It is clear enough to see through. We shall pack about four hundred cakes.

Our well has been causing some difficulty as it is not large enough to supply the water that is needed without working the small pump we have almost continually. The other night Mr. Straight and Mr. Burgess worked all night to prepare a pumping device which seems to be doing good work. The wind-mill was damaged by the recent sleet storm so that for a time we were without fire protection. This storm took down practically every telephone pole around the academy and for some distance south. Sunday the students started out and in spite of the frozen ground succeeded in getting the phones in working condition as far as the academy.

The recent rise in the price of potatoes to thirty cents enabled the academy to dispose of a portion of its stock. We were hoping for a better price, but that seems to be top notch.

In last week's issue we failed to make mention of a visit from President O. J. Graf of our College. It was only a short visit, but very enjoyable, at least as far as we were concerned. A number of the patrons of the school were present at chapel. The primary department was invited upstairs and all listened with much interest to Brother Graf's talk on the value of an education. At the close of the address, all the students were introduced and the tenth grade class were given an opportunity to have private talks with the president in order that they might be put in line for attendance at Emmanuel Missionary College next year.

Cedar Lake does not expect to teach any eleventh grade subjects next year. We shall endeavor to confine ourselves strictly to grades one to ten inclusive, with the exception that shorthand will be taught if a sufficient number desire it. Our school has a competent teacher in that line and we should like to see a good shorthand class formed next year.

Miss Jennie Nelson has been visiting her sister Mrs. E. M. Fishell, in Springfield, Ill., for some time. In her absence Brother Ralph Osborn is looking after her work at the Nelson and Collins store.

Among the post-office appointment notices in the paper this week, is that of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams for Cedar Lake. All the old students will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Williams is to continue in her position another four years.

Young Men Wanted

"Young Men Wanted for the United States Army." On every bill-board, on the sides of barns and elsewhere this sign is seen with many alluring offers of salary, of travel, and of other attractions. At present the countries of Europe have out such signs as "Young man your country needs you," "Rally to your colors," "England expects every man to do his duty." Japan has paid prizes to those who send in the most inspiring maxims to help her soldiers to face death and duty. A Japanese sailor, while doing blockade duty outside Kiao-Chow, swam up to a German floating mine and exploded it. This has been made a subject of maxims.

God, too, is making His call today. He says, "Young man, go work today in My vineyard." He expects every man, woman, boy, and girl to rally to the banner of Prince Emmanuel. The great crisis of His work is at hand and He wants His army to go forward with great zeal and firmness.

The government offers exceptional inducements to certain classes of workers. It says, "We will give two per cent more to trained mechanics." God offers a crown of stars. The government gives medals of award for long and continual service. God says, "They that teach many shall shine as the stars forever and ever." The government is calling for men to go to the colonies. God wants men and women for every nation, kindred, tongue, and people. The government offers as one of its inducements, the broadening effect of travel and the opportunities of seeing the world. God offers the chance to travel in this world and also has promised those who are faithful the privilege of visiting the other worlds with Christ and all the holy angels.

We are told that, "With such an army of workers as our youth, rightly trained might furnish, how soon the message of a crucified, risen, and soon-coming Saviour might be carried to the whole world." A look over one of the battlefields of Europe after one of the battles will show how much the governments really offer—dead and wounded men scattered about for three days without any help. The promises of God are as sure as God Himself. These thousands are giving their lives for a temporal cause. Will you give yours for the cause of God and eternity?

How many of our young people are going to enlist for service? The recruiting station is Beechwood Academy, Fairland, Indiana. It is not too late to enter and begin training now. The third term will soon begin, and a number of new classes will then start. A special course will be given in the following subjects: Testimonies, Denominational History, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, and a number of other subjects.

Write to the principal for more information. Do not wait another day. Sit down and write now.

Connersville

Connersville has one of the best church buildings in the state. A series of meetings was held here about twelve years ago at which time the church was dedicated. The membership now is very small and nearly all are aged people. No Sabbath meetings have been conducted in the church for some time. Their Sabbath school and other services have been held in private homes.

The city operates a sanitarium with Brother Brown in charge. Here we are comfortably cared for. We began meetings January 17 under unfavorable conditions, but are now having the best people of the town in attendance and are invited to many homes to give Bible readings.

We have distributed 1,400 War Extras, and will place in every home as far as possible the last number of the War Extra.

We call upon our people for their prayers for this needy field.

Our Mission Trees

Every child should have a "mission tree." This is a new kind of tree—but your money as fruit on the tree will grow, if you follow the directions given. When filled you will have ten bright dimes on your tree.

Three little boys have already sent their trees in, and want another. Two of these boys filled theirs by selling magazines. One boy is only five years old. He worked just one afternoon.

Already one hundred fifty books have been taken. We want every child in Indiana to have one of these trees. Write for one today. Just send me your name and address—a card will do, and I will send you a mission tree.

Our children are to raise $110 for missions in Africa this year.

It is with pleasure I write about the work of the Lord in our city and also at Maxwell. This has been an unusually hard place to work. We have an attendance of about twenty. We have some very enthusiastic workers among our little company who are doing excellent work in the city and country. Brother H. M. Kelley and wife are doing faithful work here and at Maxwell, where they have been laboring for a few weeks. We expect to see the work there organized with fifteen or twenty members. Thank the Lord for this great message.

News Notes

Elder E. A. Bristol returned from Chicago the 3d where he attended a board meeting at the Swedish Seminary.

Elder C. N. Sanders left Indianapolis the 3d for Bloomington to answer a call for meetings.

The funeral services of Charles Legg were conducted by Brother H. M. Kelly at Windfall, February 1.

Are you doing your part in distributing the special Protestant Extra? The Indianapolis churches have taken 7,000 of this excellent issue.

Brother L. A. Hansen, of Washington, D. C., paid the Wabash Valley Sanitarium a visit last week. He called at the office and was accompanied by Brother Bristol to Maxwell.

Brother G. W. Rader is binding off work at Dillsboro where he held meetings last fall.

Brethren E. E. Franklin and D. A. Bailey attended the Bookmen's Convention at Washington D. C. and report excellent meetings.

A good patronage is reported at our sanitarium. A representation from the institution will be present at the Medical Convention at Washington, D. C. this week.

Brethren Fred Possman and Edgar Myers and wife were callers at the office.

The Missionary Volunteers of the new union church of Indianapolis are actively engaged in the distribution of literature. The attendance at the regular Sunday evening church service is excellent.

Beechwood Academy News Notes

On Sunday, January 24, the school board met at the academy. Those in attendance were E. A. Bristol, R. W. Hostettler, E. R. Lauda, C. N. Sanders, W. A. Young, C. A. Russell, and E. A. von Pohle. One of the things considered at this time was a new water system for the school, by which we will be supplied with both hot and cold water. This surely will be much appreciated by the students and teachers residing in the home.

Beechwood Academy needs students, and there is a large number of young people throughout this conference who need the educational advantages that we are able to offer. It is the plan of the school board that Indiana shall be thoroughly worked during the coming season, and that the academy shall be nearer filled next year.

We were glad to have Professor Russell with us over the Sabbath previous to the board meeting. He left here Sunday night and hurried to a board meeting at Bethel Academy.

Several new classes have lately been formed, among these are botany, agriculture, and bookkeeping. Denominational history and Testimonies will start soon.

Our matron, Miss Pitcher, left for her home in Sullivan last Tuesday. We were sorry to have her leave us, but her health would not permit her to carry on the work longer. Miss Sims, the preceptress, by the assistance of the girls is doing the work Miss Pitcher was doing.

A short time ago an interesting little program was given at the chapel hour. At the close of this Professor von Pohle was presented with a new Bible from the students and teachers. The expression on his face and his absence of words to express his feelings, told us that we had accomplished our end—surprised him.

Everyone a Worker

I am returning from the Bookmen's and Missionary Convention. I have thought of the brethren and sisters in West Michigan many times and wish they might have heard the good things expressed, also to have been endued with the inspiration of service for the King of kings.

Our goal should be, everyone consecrated, everyone a worker—doing something for Jesus—everyone circulating at least two Signs Weekly per week, and scattering the soul-winning tracts and leaflets as the autumn leaves; also reports of work done. Let us make a grand charge for victory and success.

I will explain why the above should be our goal when I see you, especially reporting our work.

Every Church Member a Worker

A time has come in the history of our work which demands that every Seventh-day Adventist be a worker for souls. The numerous ways of giving the message leave all who fail to warn perishing souls of their coming doom without excuse. Brethren and sisters in East Michigan, let us seize every opportunity God gives us. If possible let us redeem the years the cankerworm has eaten. Work with the Present Truth Series, tracts, and other literature. Also let each one faithfully report all work, that a complete report may be had.

Soon the king of the north will pitch his tabernacle at Jerusalem and then it will be forever too late to save souls.

A. V. MORRISON

History of the White Lake School

Failure to be present at the last session of the teachers' institute warrants me in giving a brief history of our school work through the columns of the HERALD. It was my privilege to be a student at Battle Creek College during the educational revival of 1898-99. God gave me a burden for the children of White Lake. I returned home and conducted for a short time a home school.

In the fall of 1899 I helped to establish and maintain the first church school in Oakland County. In those days we called them missionary schools. Rosa Hansen of Iowa taught the school. My sisters were young then. I drove with them four miles night and morning to attend school. Because of removals the school did not continue after that year.

When my own children were old enough to be in school I determined that they should have their training in Christian schools, and for several years sent them to Holly. Last fall we built a schoolroom, and now have a school of eight taught by Miss Sherman.

Adelphian Academy Notes

The harvesting of next season's supply of ice was accomplished very rapidly this year. The ice was about twenty inches thick, and the weather very favorable. Between forty and fifty tons are required to last until cold weather begins in the fall

Miss Lamson attended the recent educational and Missionary Volunteer convention at Lansing. She reports a growing interest in educational lines at this place.

Considerable has been accomplished recently in removing dead trees from the academy pasture lot. As the bottom land is now covered with ice, the trees are easily felled and dragged out onto higher land. This wood will be used for fuel during the summer months.

Mr. Robert Muirhead recently enjoyed a visit from his grandmother, Mrs. Chapman, of Battle Creek.

Miss Beulah Magley entered school last Thursday being the 105th student to enroll.

Mr. Alvin Goff, Miss Helen Richmond, and Miss Bertha Cass have recently entered the home. There are now thirty-three young men and twenty-eight young women in the dormitories.

Notice

A meeting of the conference workers, church elders, and leaders of companys of the Wisconsin Conference has been called by the conference committee to meet at Oshkosh, March 1-4; the first meeting to be on Monday evening at seven thirty.

As a result of the efforts of Elder Drews and the little company of believers, an interest has been aroused among the people of the city; so we have arranged to encourage this work by preaching service each evening. There will be four services daily devoted to the study of the needs of the field and methods of work in the conference. With the many perplexing problems confronting us, the committee feels the need of counsel from conference workers, church elders, and company leaders and do, therefore, earnestly request that every man called for will put forth every effort to be present the entire time.

The members of the Oshkosh church have kindly consented to do what they can for entertainment. In order that you shall not be disappointed in finding a place to room when you arrive, you should write immediately to Elder Louis Drews, 104 McKinley Ave., Oshkosh, Wis., telling him of your coming. Watch for a notice from him in the HERALD, telling you how to find the church on your arrival.

P. A. HANSEN, President

Poy Sippi

Since last reporting to the HERALD, I have visited several of our churches, found all of good courage and ready to take hold of the work of God as best they could.

The 3d of January I began a series of meetings with my home church at Poy Sippi. January 19 Elder F. Stebbeds joined with me, and the meetings were continued until February 7. The attendance was good each evening and a special interest shown by those not of our faith. Fourteen have taken their stand on the side of the Lord, three of these being prodigal sons returning to the Father's home. There are still others who are deeply interested and we believe they will be numbered with God's people before very long.

I feel very grateful to God for what He has done for this place during these meetings. May glory be ascribed to our Lord who gave His life for us all.

A Faithful Worker at Rest

Brother H. C. Winslow of Chicago, formerly of Battle Creek, Michigan, died early this morning, February 12, at the German Hospital, where he underwent an operation about four weeks ago. An operation was his only hope of life, but at his age, seventy-nine years, it was too great a shock to endure. Brother Winslow has been local elder in the North Shore and in the North Side and in the Central Chicago churches. He has been very active in the distribution of literature for years past. He was selling books up to the time of his operation and very successful. He was very energetic and untiring in his efforts. Funeral services will be held Sabbath, Feb. 13, 2 P. M. in Chicago. Sunday his remains will be taken to Battle Creek, Mich. He is survived by his wife, who was the daughter of old Brother Glover, and his two sons, Herbert of College Place, Washington and Frank of Chicago. Brother Winslow will be greatly missed by his large circle of acquaintances and by the sick, for there was no one in our Chicago churches who visited the sick more faithfully than he.

G. E. LANGDON

Sabbath School and Young People's Convention

A Sabbath school and young people's convention will be held at Fox River Academy, February 14, 15. Elder Langdon will be present and will give the opening address. Professor C. A. Russell will also be in attendance. The three goals of the Sabbath school department and how they can be attained by the local schools, will be considered. The different phases of the young people's work will be thoroughly discussed.

It has been some time since I reported through the HERALD the progress of the work in this place, but we now feel that the efforts put forth have not been in vain, although the outlook was very dismal for some time after camp meeting. We have a nice little Sabbath school of eleven members, and all seem determined to make the most of their opportunities to gain a knowledge of the truth. Five of these are new Sabbath keepers and although they have not fully taken their stand, we are praying that the time will soon come when they will do so.

During the week of prayer I visited the churches at Martinsville, Noble, and Bluford. I also called on all except one of the members of the little company at West Frankfort. An awakening has come to the church at Martinsville. The members have gone to work for their neighbors and friends, new people are keeping the Sabbath, and a call for help is being made, which I expect to answer in the very near future.

I found the few faithful ones remaining at Noble of excellent courage, and we had good meetings each day I was there. The brethren and sisters have been repairing their church building. The past few years this little company has been laboring under difficulties. I hope this condition may soon receive attention from the proper source.

I found the church at Bluford all of one accord and working for their friends and neighbors, which is the natural result of unity in the church of God.

Sabbath and Sunday, January 9 and 10, were good days for the church at Herrin. The sweet influence of the Spirit of God was manifest at every meeting. Hearts were made tender, wrongs were confessed and made right. Officers were elected for the coming year, and all are of the best of courage, anticipating a prosperous year for the church.

I hope to have a good report to send in from Martinsville in a short time.

Obituaries

GILDING.—Mrs. Helen M. Chalker-Gilding was born in Seneca Co., N. Y., May 17, 1839, and died January 13, 1915, in the home of her youngest daughter at Scottville, Mich. She accepted the Sabbath at an early age, and was faithful until her death. Six children, eighteen grand-children, and one brother mourn her death. We believe she sleeps in Jesus to come forth in the first resurrection. Remarks were made by the Methodist minister from John 19:26,27.

WATERS.—Mrs. Phebe Adella Waters was born at Jefferson, Mich., Dec. 6, 1857, and died at Hesperia, Mich., Jan. 27, 1915. She was married to Theron D. Waters, Aug. 24, 1879. One daughter was born to them. Sister Waters was converted in early life and ever witnessed by her God-fearing conduct that she was a true disciple of Jesus. She was a member of the old Denver church. Services were conducted by the writer at the family residence at Hesperia. Services were also conducted at Fremont the following day where she was buried in the Fremont Cemetery.

W. REEFMAN

LADD.—Henrietta Ladd was born Oct. 6, 1869 in Switzerland, and died at her home in Otsego, Mich., Jan. 23, 1915. She was the wife of Frank L. Ladd, to whom she was married twenty-three years ago, and mother of five children all of whom survive her. She was brought up in the Christian faith, her parents being German Lutherans. Eighteen years ago she embraced the Adventist message and continued in the "blessed hope" until her death. Funeral services were conducted in the Otsego church by the writer speaking from 1 Thess. 4:14.

C. F. McVAGH

WEEDEN.—Mary Gotham was born in the state of New York, June 24, 1850, and died at her home in Coldwater, Mich., Jan. 10, 1915, aged 64 years, 6 months, and 16 days. She was married to Hiram Weeden, Sept. 9, 1866. To this union were born nine daughters and two sons. Sister Weeden was converted thirty-six years ago and united with the United Brethren Church. Three years later she accepted the Adventist faith and has been a faithful member ever since. The aged husband and nine children are left to mourn, but they sorrow not as those who have no hope. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer from Rev. 14:13; Jer. 31:16, 17.

R. U. GARRETT

WILSON.—Henry Wm. Wilson was born at Galva, Ill., Nov. 12, 1844. In early life he moved with his parents to Michigan: July 21, 1867 he was married to Elizabeth Taylor and to this union six children were born. Three survive him. About sixteen years ago he united with the Seventh-day Adventist Church and remained in that hope until his death which came very suddenly while driving home from town Jan. 13, 1915. By a consistent life he won the respect of the community. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer from 1 Thess. 4:14.

C. F. McVAGH

Hess.—Rhoda Hess of Dayton, Ohio, was born May 1, 1884 and died Dec. 25, 1914 at Indianapolis, aged 30 years, 6 months, and 25 days. She leaves her husband, four children, father and mother, and two sisters to mourn their loss. Sister Hess accepted the Seventh-day Adventist faith a little over three years ago and has been a faithful self-sacrificing worker. Funeral services were conducted by the writer at Indianapolis.

E. A. BRISTOL

ALFORD.—Addison C. Alford was born in West Virginia, Feb. 22, 1835, and died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Chappell, Greenfield, Ind., Feb. 1, 1915. Brother Alford was the father of six children of whom only one survives. He united with the Seventh-day Adventist church at Maxwell, Ind., under the preaching of Elder William Covert about twenty-eight years ago and remained faithful until the end. The funeral services were conducted by the writer.

H. M. KELLEY

KENDALL.—Died at Nobleville, Mich., Nov. 24, 1914, Edgar M. Kendall, aged 25 years. Although not a member of any church, perhaps because there was no Seventh-day Adventist church in the vicinity, with his wife he kept the Sabbath for several years. He leaves to mourn his loving wife, his aged parents, and one brother. The funeral services were conducted by the writer assisted by the minister of the Baptist church, who kindly allowed us the use of his church and his hour of service on Sunday, November 29.

W. REEFMAN

LEGG.—Charles Emerson Legg was born Feb. 22, 1855, and died at his home near Windfall, Ind., Jan. 23, 1915. He never united with the church, but was favorable to the truth and sacrificed to give his children an education in our schools. He bore a testimony on the Sabbath before he was taken sick, expressing a desire to become a devoted Christian. He was a kind husband and father, and an exemplary citizen. His wife, two children, three brothers, and one sister survive him. The funeral services were conducted by the writer.

H. M. KELLEY

SHEETS.—Richard E. Sheets, fifty-five years of age, was born in Belton, Ohio, and died December 24, 1914 in Chicago. Sister Sheets embraced the faith two years ago under the labors of Elder K. C. Russell. Brother Sheets made a profession of faith in his earlier days, but wandered away from the Lord until a few weeks before his death at which time he embraced the Adventist faith. Just before his death he called his five children to him, prayed for each one, and admonished them to lean upon the arm of the Lord that they might be kept from many temptations which would assail them. Services were conducted by the writer.

College

Herbert S. Mould, a graduate of the college course, was booked to sail from New York, January 31, to connect with the work in Cuba.

The Y. P. M. V. Society conducted a mock trial in chapel evening after the Sabbath. Mr. A. L. Cohol was convicted of disorderly conduct, non-support, vagrancy, and manslaughter.

Professor Graf made some very encouraging statements concerning the College debt in chapel Tuesday morning. The amount already received with several good prospects brings the third-way point nearly in sight.

The Library has started branches in the Training School and the Ladies' Dormitory.
