

SKIN DISEASES.

When the general health is neglected, and internal organs become torpid, the skin is liable to various diseases, such as eruptions, rashes, scales, etc.

Treatment.— It matters not what form the disease of the skin assumes, constitutional treatment is required, and in addition thereto, the patient should strictly regard all the laws of health as directed in Part I.

The skin is the largest organ of the body, with a total area of about 20 square feet. The skin protects us from microbes and the elements, helps regulate body temperature, and permits the sensations of touch, heat, and cold.
